NIGHT VISION GOGGLES

There are three categories of NVG available today. Cat. 1 is military stuff from Russia. it is inexpensive, but doesn't have the infrastructure, or reliability of U.S. manufactured goods. Cat. 2 is warranted civilian gear from the U.S. and Cat. 3 is U.S. Mil. Spec. (out of reach cost-wise for most people). The chief advantage of NVGs is not only the ability to see in the dark, but 1 to 1 magnification enables you to run, drive, or fly (safely) at night. ANY MAGNIFICATION BEYOND 1:1 ALLOWS YOU TO SEE, BUT NOT USE THE NVGs AS A DEVICE FOR REAL TIME MOVEMENT. NVGs allow you to use normal telescopic weapon scopes at night.

Both America and former USSR NVGs have three generation levels of light intensification. Gen. 1 includes the U.S. starlight scopes from the Vietnam era with about 1500 - 10000 amplifications (short-life); Gen. 2 pushes amplification to 35,000 (US PVS-5) with about 2500 - 5000 hours of use. Gen. 3 captures 50,000 x normal starlight @ 10000 hr. Naturally Gen. 1 is much cheaper than Gen. 3 in the U.S. or USSR wrapper.

We can offer you an outstanding value on a Russian-made but US Warranted Goggle set that I personally recommend. Excellent!

Gen. 2 - Night Vision Goggles

$805.50

These goggles are binocular-style with 35,000 starlight amplification and infrared. They are Russian-made but have been modified to US specification and are warranted for one (1) year by a well-known California firm. They are identical to the U.S. PVS-5 goggles used in Vietnam and other areas. Also included is head gear and a carrying pack. They are excellent NVGs that normally sell for over $1000.00.
